Mr. Theodore F. Repplier, President The Advertising Council, Inc. Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

A group of Americans of Baltic descent would like to promote knowledge about their native countries among their fellow Americans. An advertisement displayed in the subway system of New York City seemed to us a suited method how to achieve this difficult goal in this metropolis, namely the one titled "Know Mexico". Since it says that it has been displayed in the interest of international good will "by your firm and the Transit Advertising, we consider this the proper approach to our intended goal: to enlighten American public about the far-away countries of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania.

Miss Doyle at your New York office suggested that we write a letter to you since she was not in the position to answer on some of our questions. Primarily we would like to know more about your policy in this kind of advertising. Secondly, your advice as to other possibilities in this field would be greatly appreciated.

Since this is a letter of inquiry, consider the enclosed text not as a definite one. Any suggestions as to its modification, will be accepted gratefully so that the final advertisement really would serve the purpose mentioned above: the international good will, $\rho_{\rm sod} = \frac{1}{|u_1|} |u_2|$

Very truly yours,

Enclosed: draft of the ad.
